WHAT LAW WOULD DO FOR THE CITY

CITY ATTORNEY MAXFIELD ANSWERS SOME IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

THIRD ARTICLE IS PRINTED

Takes up the Rule by Commission and Shows What Benefits Will Be Derived from the Change.

In his third article on the proposed change of form of government of the city from the present political municipality to rule by commission, City Attorney Maxfield takes up in detail new phases of the law. He writes as follows on the city officers that would be named should the change be made and what their duties would be:

"A city reorganized under the commission plan is governed by its commission or commissioners, consisting of the mayor and two commissioners, and they are vested with all the powers and duties performed by the mayor and common council and the several administrators and executive officers, boards and commissions of such city, prior to such reorganization, and devote their entire time to their office, and provide by ordinance for the time of holding meetings which shall be open to the public, and their salary shall not be increased except upon a vote of the people at a general election.

"The mayor is president of the commission and has a vote as such, but no veto powers, a majority shall constitute a quorum and an affirmative vote is necessary to adopt any motion, resolution or ordinance. All motions are made in writing and read before a vote is taken, when the eyes and names are called and recorded.

"The commission may create any general department of city affairs, and place any one of their number in charge of that department, and make a change whenever it seems to them that the public service would be benefited. At the first meeting of the commission, or as soon as practicable, they shall elect the city clerk, treasurer, superintendent of streets and such other officers and assistants as are necessary to properly conduct the affairs of the city, and fix their term of office, and the amount of their salaries, and discharge them at any time according to their judgment, and create and fill other offices and fix the amount of their salaries, and all officers appointed by the commission are their assistants and servants and do not constitute part of the commission.

"All meetings of the commission are open to the public, and the city commissioner shall present to the commission, at the end of each month, a detailed statement of the municipality, of the city, which shall be accompanied by a detailed schedule as the commission may require by ordinance. All of which, including a summary of the acts and proceedings of the commission, shall be published in pamphlet form for free distribution and a copy furnished to all newspapers published in the city. An examination of all books and accounts of the city shall be made at the end of each year by a competent public accountant, a copy of which shall be furnished to all the newspapers in the city, and to all persons applying for same. At the first meeting of the commission and in case the appropriation for the city government has been made for that year, they shall have power, by ordinance, to repeal, enlarge or change such appropriation.

"No ordinance passed by the commission shall go into effect within ten days of its passage, and if during such time a petition is signed by the voters of such city, equal in number to 25 per cent of the entire vote cast for all candidates for mayor at the last preceding general election protesting against the passage of such ordinance, it shall be suspended and reconsidered by the commission, and if not entirely repealed, submitted to the voters of the city at either general or special election called for that purpose upon which the fate of the ordinance depends, excepting it be an ordinance for the immediate preservation of public peace, health or safety, which contains a statement of its urgency and passed by an affirmative vote of the commission.

"The existing law which governs the granting of franchises to public utilities and the leasing of municipal bonds are unchanged by the commission form of government.

"H. L. MAXFIELD."

FOUR HURT WHILE WORKING IN YARD

Switchman John Clough Nearly Loses Life in Accident Late Yesterday Afternoon.

Four accidents, three of which happened yesterday afternoon, have resulted in the complete or partial disablement of four men employed in switching service in the freight yards. One of the mishaps but for the heat of good fortune would have resulted fatally, and Switchman John Clough, who was the victim, has his lucky stars to thank that he is still alive to tell the tale.

Although his injuries are painful, they are not considered serious, and he may be able to return to work within a few weeks. The accident in which he figured happened yesterday afternoon about four o'clock while he was working on some gondolas filled with sand at the belt line near the pit of the Janesville Cement Shingle Company.

He was tightening the brakes on the head end of a short train of five sand gondolas which the switch-engine was pulling up the hill when the brake-wheel came off, precipitating him to the ground. Had he fallen in front of the cars he would assuredly have been ground to a pulp beneath the wheels, but as it happened he rolled to one side down the steep embankment, finally bringing up against an old tie, Mr. Palmer, who was called to attend the case, stated that although there were no indications of internal injuries, the muscles of the side and breast had been badly torn and strained.

The other accidents, even if less serious, have prevented the victims from continuing work. Edward Courtney, switch-tender at the south yards, while riding in a caboose last night, was thrown violently against the benches when the train was dropped into some stationary cars, and had several ribs broken. He did not realize that his ribs had been cracked until Dr. Woods had finished bandaging his side.

The other two accidents were due to round stones in the yards. Yardmaster Griffin, while alighting from a car near the freight-house yesterday afternoon, struck on a roundhead and twisted his right ankle severely. Ordinarily, the injury would keep him from work, but on account of the rush he has stuck to his post, although hardly able to hobble.

Yermo Fraunfelder was injured in exactly the same manner at almost the same place and has been laid up for several days.

NEW STYLE ENGINE MADE INITIAL TRIP

First of New Class E's, Number 1507, Arrived from Chicago This Morning.

Engine 1507, the first of the new Class E passenger locomotives to be seen in Janesville, arrived in the new yards this morning at the head of a train of forty empty stock cars in charge of Engineer Carl Heesche and Fireman Elmer Walter. These new engines, which are designed to haul fourteen Pullman sleepers, although built for passenger service, are seven per cent more powerful than the 11 type, which do not look so large when standing at the side of the big flyers. The new engines, four of which arrived from the south before twelve o'clock, have all the latest improvements in engine construction—the Washburn Valve Gear or monkey-motion style of driving gear, six drivers and a trailer, and a patent furnace door operated by compressed air.

Although it was the first trip of the 1507, the engine crew stated that from all indications the new type would be a complete success. They left Chicago last night at 2:40 and arrived in Janesville at 9 o'clock this morning, with nothing radically wrong although the patent door refused to work and the bearings were worn. With an 11 on the same train about sixteen tons of coal would have been required to make the run, but the 1507 used only ten and that at Fireman Walter and his blowing off when he entered the yards. According to instructions issued by the master mechanic, the new engines—1505, 1507, 1508 and 1509—are to be used on freight only between Janesville and Chicago and are not to be leased by any other division without permission from the chief dispatcher.

Although well proportioned and as handsome an engine as there is on the road, their great size is shown by the fact that they cannot be housed in the Janesville roundhouse. When the stack is under the engine chimney the tank projects half a foot or more beyond the roundhouse doors.

TRAFFIC PROBLEM CLAIMS ATTENTION OF OFFICIALS

Superintendent and Trainmasters Hold Consultation Regarding Situation Here.

In order to prevent the new yards from becoming completely blocked, and also to give the new system of freight supervision a chance to get into working order, only a few trains from the north have been allowed to enter the new yards. Northbound empties from Chicago are arriving daily, but there are few cars from the Madison and Northern Wisconsin Division coming down. Most officials of the road are evidently dwelling much of their attention to the problem here and this morning Superintendent G. W. Dalley, Trainmasters S. A. Morrison and J. C. Kling and Yardmasters Carroll and Griffin were in consultation as to the best system to be used.

FIFTH DAY SWITCH-ENGINE WAS INSTALLED THIS NOON

Number of Engines in Service at Janesville Has Been Increased to Seven.

Another indication that the traffic rush had not yet reached its height was shown this morning when it was found necessary to place another day switch-engine in commission. The efficiency of switch-engine crews has been greatly reduced by the fact that anywhere from fourteen to sixteen hours' work has been the daily rule. To eliminate the strain caused by too long working hours, Engineer Starritt and Fireman Fleming, together with Switchmen Tier and Cronin, were sent out on a fifth switch-engine this noon.

MADE FIRST TRIP ON MAIN LINE YESTERDAY

Engineer Charles A. Yates, formerly night dispatcher, made his first trip as engineer yesterday afternoon, when with Fireman R. K. Smith he took an extra south at 2 o'clock with engine 1383.

Engineer Dalley and Fireman Hess brought up engine 1015 from the south on an extra this morning and turned it over to the Madison Division. Engineer Patterson, double-headed, hauled an extra to Harbison this morning with the 1015 at 10:25.

Engineer Starritt and Fireman Dalton came up on 587 last night.

It is understood that Donald Barry, who was injured some time ago in the yards, has settled with the company for a satisfactory sum.

John Osmond is taking Switchman John Clough's place today.

Engineer Strampe reported for work on the Watertown run this morning. Fireman Fleming, who has been relieving him, went on the board.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul FREIGHT YARDS WERE FILLED THIS MORNING

Heavy trains from the west and east have overcrowded the somewhat cramped yard facilities and it was almost impossible to get another train in the yards this morning. The dog run and the Davis Junction freight were delayed until late this morning on account of not being able to place their cars.

Engineer James Rooney made his first trip this morning on 155 with Wm. Aullie as fireman.

Engineer Smith and Fireman Duxstad took an extra out on the Mineral Point Division last night at 2:20 with engine 845.

Fireman Barker has Solbert's place

Attacks Greatest Resistance.
One strange peculiarity about dynamite is that its force is always in the direction from which the greatest resistance is offered. When dynamite is on the ground the explosive force is downwards; when it is placed on the side of a wall, its greatest force is sideways; when placed under an object, its force is chiefly in an upward direction.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS GOING TO WAUKESHA

Three Substitutes Will Accompany Janesville High School Eleven to "Fountain City."

Several members of the Janesville high school football squad will be taken to Waukesha Saturday when the team plays the high school there. The men have no knowledge of the strength of their opponents, but anticipate a hard tussle and have been preparing for it. Pithful practice has kept them in good trim and they will be in first-class condition when they line up on the field. A number of the boys are planning to play in the game and spend a part of the day in Milwaukee. The players who will make up the team will probably be as follows: Ryan, Williams, MacDonald, Brown, Green, Korst, Palmer, Edler, Wilkinson, Huzen, and Sullivan. Mott, Tuckwood and McCarthy will accompany the team as substitutes.

THE MILITANT SUFFRAGISTS IN AMERICA.
Mrs. Emmeline Gould Pankhurst.

New York City.—The fight for women's suffrage is to be carried into the American congress if Mrs. Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragists of Great Britain, has her way. On her arrival here she was greeted by a small but enthusiastic group of admirers and supporters and at once defended the militant tactics.

"All great movements have been worked out by violence," she said. "The American people secured their liberty by violence, so why not rush the House of Commons to obtain what we regard as our rights? The ballot granted the women will make them more intelligent less self-centered and on the whole much better citizens."

"Don't you think that there would be corrupt healers?" Mrs. Pankhurst was asked.
She laughed outright. Then after a pause, said: "Well I don't think it could make politics any worse at any rate."
Mrs. Pankhurst declared that she had been a suffragette as long as she could remember. She had gone to meetings in favor of the emancipation of women when she was only 11 years old and accompanied by her mother who herself was an ardent advocate of the cause.

Mrs. Pankhurst will remain in the United States until November 22.
Mrs. Pankhurst is slight of stature and has a wealth of brown hair, which is just turning grey. She looked a typical English woman and was dressed accordingly in a dress of dark material.
"I am coming to America," she said, "to speak on the subject of equal rights for women and to study the situation in this country. I think we are away ahead of you in this matter."

As she talked Mrs. Pankhurst displayed a little medallion she wore and explained that it was a distinguishing mark worn by those Englishwomen who have been imprisoned for the cause.
"I suffered solitary confinement," she continued, "and had only one hour of air out of the 24. During the other 23 hours I had in a little cell eight by ten feet. I had cell 17 on the second floor of Holloway Prison and I wore the regular prison garb too, but I did not bring this costume to New York with me."

"The movement is progressing satisfactorily in England," she went on. "We have pledged from practically two-thirds of the members of Parliament to vote for us as soon as a bill is prepared by the government. And we expect sooner or later to compel the government to introduce the bill. Just when this will come to pass I am not prepared to say."

Scientist Gave Lecture: Prof. Parkhurst, keeper of the Yorkes telescope at the Lake Geneva Observatory, delivered an interesting and instructive lecture before the members of the Young Men's Presbyterian Club at the Presbyterian church last evening.

Teach Care of Babies.
Philadelphia's department of health has organized an alliance for the care of babies. Voluntary service will be rendered by 150 physicians and co-operating committees have been organized in every ward. Lectures are being given in the school buildings on Wednesday afternoons under the auspices of the Philadelphia Alliance for the Care of Babies. The campaign is under the direction of the department of public health, the board of education, the congress of mothers and the home and school league.

The Philosopher of Polly.
"There might be more poets developed in this country," says the Philosopher of Polly, "if we could hear nightingales at night instead of tomatoes."

Lot of Farmers' Wives.
One of the magazines, discussing the hard lot of the farmers' wives, points to the fact that the telephone has brought a great element of satisfaction into their lives. They can order things from the village store, gossip with their neighbors, call for sympathy in their aches and pains from the physician, and generally their lives are made more livable because of it. Then the women's clubs have done a great deal for the women in the country and the traveling libraries of the west are of inestimable value.

Epigram Criminal Code.
Procrastination is the thief of time. Curiosity is the porch climber of society. The past is the hold-up man of sobriety. Good-fellowship is the shrober of sobriety. Conscience is the sneak thief of contentment. The college boy is the checkkitter of humor. The firecracker is the pirate of peace. The waltz rabbit is the ghoul of sleep. Hard luck is the shop-lifter of hope. Bad cooking is the sandbagger of civility.—Puck.

Texas in Unique Position.
Except the original 13 states, whose independence was separately acknowledged by Great Britain, Texas is the only state which had separate existence as a nation before it became a state of the union. It is the only one of the admitted states, with the possible exception of Vermont and Maine, which by the conditions of its admission reserved state ownership for all the public lands within its limits. It is the only state which before entering the union had obtained the consent of congress to subdivide itself into a number of new states.

Use of Chewing Gum.
The extent of the use of chewing gum among the people of the United States is illustrated by the fact that the importation of "chicle" in 1908, chiefly for use in the manufacture of chewing gum, amounted to more than 4,000,000 pounds. This article, "chicle," is obtained in southern Mexico from the trunk of the sapodilla plum tree, and the importation of this gum during the last decade has amounted to about 30,000,000 pounds, or over 12,000 tons, valued at over $8,000,000.

BANK GUARANTEE LAW

The state banks of Oklahoma have contributed half a million dollars to depositors of the defunct Columbia Bank and Trust Co., which failed a month ago, and the shortage still existing is $400,000 with only $12,000 in sight to meet it. The bank, however, is supposed to have securities enough when converted to meet this deficiency, so that the depositors in the end will lose nothing.

That's a fine proposition for the depositor, and encourages him to patronize any kind of a banking institution without regard to capital or reputation. The Inter Ocean in commenting on this feature says:

"What does it matter to him who starts a bank—whether it is Long-Fingered John, the faro dealer, who feels himself fitted by long experience with the 'box' to run a different sort of bank, or Jake, the boy orator, who throws hot shot into J. D. Rockefeller on every occasion? He can't lose, and if John and Jake want to try a while at the banking game just for luck, why shouldn't he give the boys a lift?"

"The more one observes the Oklahoma experiment the more closely does the great light that fell on the statesman who conceived it begin to resemble the thickest darkness."

If Wisconsin had been favored with this kind of a law the Mineral Point bank failure would have kept the bankers guessing for some time to come. The $200,000 shortage reported is still climbing.

The law is a farce for two or three reasons. In the first place it offers a premium on dishonesty by encouraging men to steal, and floods the state with a lot of irresponsible bankers which bring discredit to a business which should occupy a place at the front, as it always has, in the world of finance and business.

Then it is absolutely unfair, as it taxes men for deficiencies for which they are not responsible. If the Wisconsin legislative committee is still in doubt the members should be able to give a reason.

TRADE IN THE WEST

Reports sent in from representatives of financial journals, now traveling in the west, indicate that prosperity is in full swing. New industries are springing up, and manufacturers are loaded with orders. The report from Minneapolis, the great milling center, reads like a fairy tale, for it is difficult to grasp the magnitude of a business of such great volume. The wheat fields of the northwest are still in evidence, and the product is largely hauled in Minneapolis, where every mill is running night and day and Sundays.

"The first four days of the week brought in 2,503 cars, against 1,845, a gain of 718 over last year. Harley and flax came more freely, and of wheat there were 1,502 cars against 1,103."

"The wheat is practically wiped off the board as soon as it strikes here. The mills, having loaded 110,000 barrels of flour one day, came up another day with 105,000, and have averaged between 80,000 and 90,000 for some time. This represents an enormous consumption of wheat and accounts for the fact that no stocks have accumulated here."

"Not in the history of Minneapolis has the flour business been so good. In former seasons, last year, for instance, winter wheat markets were lower than Minneapolis by considerable. Minneapolis millers could not meet prices, and had to argue that theirs, being a spring wheat flour, was worth more. This the buying trade recognized, yet buyers guide so much upon the price of wheat in Chicago, that the Minneapolis flour prices looked out of line. This year conditions are different. Minneapolis wheat is not out of line, but rather on par, as witness the price of May wheat in Chicago and in Minneapolis, and also the closeness to Minneapolis of Kansas City and St. Louis prices compared with former years.

"Bank deposits are at a new high record. The Northwestern National, which recently increased its capital to $2,000,000, with $2,000,000 surplus, is carrying almost $3,000,000 deposits. The First National has more than $23,000,000, and the Security National has $21,000,000. Altogether the banks, including the Homebank County, the Farmers & Mechanics Savings, have deposits of $102,000,000, a figure never before attained."

Under these prosperous conditions the people of the northwest have neither time nor inclination to do much kicking. The high level of prices for cereals which have maintained for the past five years or more places the farmer in a position where it would be difficult for him to find cause for complaint. What is true of the farmer is true of all producers, and the little band of insurgents, which produce nothing but a disturbance, will soon be playing to empty galleries.

John S. Kennedy, banker and philanthropist, died at his home in New York last Sunday, leaving an estate valued at $75,000,000. Mr. Kennedy was one of the few multi-millionaires who escaped criticism, and this was because so few people knew him, for he was a modest philanthropist; yet he was a power in the financial world, for he could command more ready money on call than any man on Wall street. His bank balances averaged from $25,000,000 to $35,000,000, and he was ever ready to help in times of stringency. He was one of the little group that held the street steady during the last panic. How the much-rumored chance to overlook him is a conundrum.

The Washington court of appeals sustains the action of the lower court in the case of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, the labor leaders, and unless the decision is reversed by the United States supreme court the convicted men will serve full sentences of from six to twelve months. The case will be remembered as an attempt to boycott the Buck Store & Range Co. of St. Louis, and at the time attracted wide attention. The men will now pose as martyrs, which is the worst feature of the situation.

Francis J. Honey, the defeated candidate for district attorney in San Francisco, says that the fight will go on until the city is purged of graft and dishonesty. Honey can accomplish but little with the administration against him, and with a mayor whose principal ambition is to promote the interests of organized labor.

Pearry wears the medal, while Cook is out after the persimmons. The north pole is still intact with prospects for a hard cold winter.

"No north, no south, but one flag and one common country," is the sentiment which greets President Taft as he journeys through the south.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By FOSTER MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

When the evening shadows fall, and the scorching voices call weary pilgrims to their home on either shore, when we quit the river in this weary grind, it will be a joy to find all the fellows that we loved in days of yore. Oh, so often do we bend o'er the ashes of a friend, who has traveled to that silent, solemn bourne! But we have so much to do, our duties we pursue, that we cannot take much time to weep and mourn. We must use each shining hour, for the wives are sick of bones and stench; and if we should creep and sigh every time our comrades die, why, the tears would blur the figures that we make! But we'll meet them, every one, when the heavenly grind is done, they'll be waiting, they'll be watching at the pier! They will welcome us ashore, when old Charon drops his oar, and they'll say: "We're doggone glad to see you home!" I don't care for snowy gowns, and I balk at harps and crowns, and I fear that endless songs would be a bore; but I'll meet my good old friends where the sky of Alden bends, and we'll visit on a star forever more!

PRESS COMMENT.

Good, Sound Advice.
Back to the soil is the advice of the Washington Times to the young man about town out of a job to try a year on the farm. Plowing will give him a new constitution, take the kinks out of his head, the frog out of his throat, the gas off his stomach, the weariness out of his legs, the corns off his toes, and give him a good appetite, an honest living and a slight of heaven.

Where Are the Police.
Wausau evidently does not trust its policemen and its Record-Herald comments on its plan of watchmen as follows: "The Wausau idea of protecting home industries is receiving little approbation. Guarding the banks and stores by a special patrolman at a time when burglars are rampant is a practical step."

One or Two T's?
The Eau Claire Leader hits on a

"pat" one when it says: "Mrs. Currie Chapman Cull is now the leader of the new national party started in New York for woman's suffrage. It is safe to suggest, for an emblem for the new party, the last name of the good lady."

Not Dug Yet.

Down in Beloit the News, following blindly La Follette and Cooper's dictates, talks of Speaker Cannon realizing that he is nearly in the last ditch. Senator La Follette's magazine uses forceful figures when it compares the speaker to a "grin old wolf, who hears the beaters in the woods and accents them closing in." One would judge the phrase describes the situation with wonderful fidelity to truth.

That Wausau Idea.
Has Appleton four of its police protection, too? It would seem so, as the Post favors Wausau's idea of watchmen. The city of Wausau is taking steps to lock the barn door before the horse is stolen. A meeting of property owners was called this week to take measures for guarding the city more securely at night in view of the bank robberies and store robberies from a plague of which Wisconsin seems just now to be suffering.

Sure They're Good!
Light of prosperity has dawned on the Fond du Lac Commonwealth with the announcement to the effect that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road has just placed an order for one hundred locomotives and a prospect for continued prosperity. Railroads do not place orders of this magnitude for rolling stock unless there is a mighty good prospect of having occasion to put it to a profitable use.

Just Wait, Brother.

Up at Black River Falls the editor of the Banner is certain that there is no man of any standing in the state who will have the audacity to come out and meet the senator squarely on the issues that will inevitably be raised in an open campaign. The system managers are, in fact, too shrewd to permit anything of the kind to be done. If they press a candidate before the people at all it will be on the harmony idea—but that is getting too old a dodge to fool the people.

Will Enforce It.

Fond du Lac is much disturbed over the supreme court having decided that the "barber law" is constitutional. It will probably be enforced and any barber who is caught shingling the hair of a country client on Sunday will probably be haled before the justice and fined for violating the particular section of the blue laws which applies to barbers. At least we hope this will happen. Not only this, but we would be delighted to see every blue law on the statute books rigidly enforced. We would like to see it done because we believe such laws had laws, and the best way we know of to get rid of a bad law is to enforce it. There is nothing that will lead to the repeal of an obnoxious statute quite so quick as enforcing it impatiently and unrelentingly.

Is Now Broke.

The Oakland Northwestern says: "The state of Alabama has 'gone broke' under the operation of its new prohibition law, which has largely reduced the revenue of the state without supplying anything to take its place. The state treasury is empty and $50,000 will have to be borrowed to meet necessary expenses for the month of November, while according to careful estimates the deficit for the full year will probably amount to close to a million dollars. To increase the difficulties of the situation there is a legal limit to the borrowing power of the state authorities, who are not authorized to use the credit of the state to exceed $300,000. The experience of Alabama is a reminder to state law makers that when they pass prohibitory laws they should take into account the necessity of finding other sources of revenue."

Countries Owe Much to America.
American plows and cultivators are turning up the soil in more than 70 countries and colonies.

You Want the Best Butter for Your Table

Purity Butter is a sweet, flavorful butter. It is butter that tempts your jaded palate with its richness, and charms your exacting taste with its delicacy. It is butter in which you do not find the absence of taste as in oleomargarine, nor the strong, salty, offensive taste of a cheap product. It is butter that has a full, fresh flavor distinctively its own.

Your Health Requires

that every morsel of butter you eat be wholesome and pure. Purity Butter is more than this. Besides being free from the disease breeding germs, dirt and impurities of ordinary butter, it has great food value. The pure, rich butter-fat is transformed into heat energy that is essential in promoting health and proper nourishment of the body.

Your Good Sense Demands

clean, hygienic butter, made under strictly sanitary conditions. Purity Butter is made in huge churns that are thoroughly cleaned and sterilized every day. It is wrapped in parchment paper and put up in paraffine dipped cartons. It comes to you in a dirt-proof, odor-proof package. It could not be prepared in a cleaner, better way.

CONFESSES AN AWFUL MURDER

17-YEAR-OLD BOY ADMITS KILLING YOUTH WHILE ROB-BING HIM.

DEAD FACE HAUNTS KILLER

Autopsy Showed Victim Was Choked to Death with Sawdust and Shavings and Hidden in Cold Place Like an Icebox.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 4.—Alvin Conn, aged 17, has confessed to the police of this city that he murdered little Alexander Hoenig two years ago while attempting to rob him. Conn said the dead face of his victim haunted to such an extent that he could not sleep.

In his room at the boys' detention home, he wrote a lengthy description of the crime and addressed it to Judge Addams.

Boy Makes Confession.

He outlined the child, he said, into an alleyway in the rear of a Scovill Avenue butcher shop owned by one Benjamin Cohn.

"I asked him if he had money," wrote Conn. "He said 'No.' I started to search him and he screamed. Then I stooped down, picked up a handful of shavings and rubbed them over his face. I let him drop to the floor and walked out. I walked around for three-quarters of an hour and came back, thinking he had got up and gone home. I saw him lying there and I got scared. I felt his heart. It was not beating. Then I staggered, a cold sweat broke out all over my body. I knew he was dead and my next impulse was to conceal the body. I picked him up, threw him in the barrel head first. Then I climbed over fence till I was three doors from there."

Haunted by Face.

The boy said he had not been able to sleep through an entire night since the crime, as he had been haunted by the face of his victim.

The autopsy on the body of the Hoenig child showed that he had been choked to death with sawdust and shavings picked up in the rear yard of the Cohn butcher shop. The doctors asserted that they found traces of frost in the flesh, indicating that the body had been in a cold place such as an ice box.

GOTCH TO HELP JEFFRIES.

Pugilist Will Endeavor to Secure Wrestler's Aid in Training.

New York, Nov. 4.—With the hope of being good and strong when he meets Jack Johnson in their battle for the heavy-weight championship of the world, Jim Jeffries has decided to engage Frankie Gotch, the champion heavy-weight wrestler of the world, to work with him for a few months when he begins training for the fight.

Jeffries intends to work twice a day with Gotch so as to be as hard as nails when the bell clangs. Gotch will probably accept Jeffries' offer to assist him in his training stunt.

SEEKS A BASEBALL FRANCHISE.

Speaker Cannon Said to Be After South Bend Team.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 4.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon, speaker of the United States house of representatives, is making an effort to buy the franchise of the South Bend club of the Central league and then transfer the club to Danville, Ill., "Uncle Joe's" town.

Speaker Cannon believes a good ball team would do more to advertise Danville than anything proposed in years. There are several other citizens of Danville in readiness to buy stock in the club, but "Uncle Joe" will control over half.

Postal Deficiency Heavy.

Washington, Nov. 4.—A postal deficiency of $17,479,770, an increase of $569,491 over last year, was announced in the annual report of Merritt O. Chance, the auditor of the post office department. The audited revenues for the fiscal year ended June 30 amounted to $203,562,333, an increase of 6.31 per cent over the preceding year. The audited expenditures increased 6.07 per cent, including losses by fire, burglary, etc.

City Official Is Held.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Building Commissioner Murdoch Campbell and Edward A. Hoganson, architect, were held to the grand jury for the death of four men and the injury of a score more in the collapse of a building in Milwaukee avenue September 17, by a coroner's jury. Personal responsibility is charged against both men in the verdict for the faulty construction and careless designing of the building.

Babe Choked to Death by Food.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—A piece of cheese lodged in her throat caused the death of little Weber, two months old. The baby was in the care of her three-year-old sister, and the food was offered by the latter in an attempt to quiet her when she cried.

FEUD IS THREATENED OVER BURNING OF NEGRO

Charged with Firing Dwellings Black Man Is Cremated Alive—Daughter Shot Defending Him.

Knoxville, Miss., Nov. 4.—This town is divided in opinion over the question whether Leonard Dunmore, a negro, should have been burned alive on the charge of arson without having had an opportunity of trial, and is likely to involve the neighborhood in a dispute that threatens feud proportions. Dunmore's daughter was shot at the same time that her father was burned. Warrants have been sworn out for six men and should they be arrested it is feared serious trouble may follow.

The men called at the home of Dunmore on the outskirts of town and asked what he knew of the burning of several homes of men by whom Dunmore had been discharged owing to his unsatisfactory services while in their employ. Dunmore dashed back into his house and arming himself with a shotgun declared from a window that unless his inquisitors moved away he would shoot to kill. One of the six men took a snap shot at the negro, wounding him. Then the men dragged Dunmore from his home, built up a pyre and, pouring oil over his body, burned him alive.

While the flames were hissing about Dunmore's body, his daughter rushed from the house and attempted to rescue him. She would have succeeded had not one of the men in the party shot her down. The black girl was fatally wounded. It is charged against the negro that he burned seven houses in Knoxville during the last month.

AWARD CARNEGIE HERO MEDALS.

With One Exception All Persons Remembered Are Americans.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 4.—With the regular fall meeting of the Carnegie hero fund commission came the reviewing of 50 persons for acts of bravery and illustrious conduct called to the attention of the commission during the past three months. With the exception of one award, made to a citizen of Canada, the entire list of persons remembered by the Carnegie commission are residents of the United States, 22 being persons living in Ohio.

Approximately $33,000, 23 silver and 27 bronze medals were awarded. Of the 50 heroic acts approved 14 of the persons responsible for them met their death. In these cases, next of kin received the award.

Deaths of heroism during the flood at Athens, O., on March 14, 1907, received the greater part of the attention of the commission.

In each of the 50 awards a human interest story of heroism is told. One hundred and sixty applicants for medals and monetary reward, were considered by the commission at the meeting, but only an even half hundred were successful.

REVOLUTIONISTS ARE DEFEATED.

Two Victories Claimed by Nicaraguan Government Over Rebels.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Two victories were claimed over the revolutionary troops by President Zelaya of Nicaragua in dispatches sent to San Francisco in dispatches sent to San Francisco, charge d'affaires of the Nicaraguan legation in this city.

The first cablegram said that the revolutionary troops abandoned Campal on the Rama river upon the approach of the regular forces.

It was stated in the second dispatch that the revolutionary following had been defeated at the mouth of the San Carlos river and that the government troops had started on a march to San Juan del Norte.

The first authentic information that any of the Central American states had openly taken sides in the revolutionary movement in Nicaragua reached the state department. It seems to indicate that Honduras has espoused the cause of the Zelaya government.

In a telegram it is stated that the representatives of the Laguna de Perlas Fruit Company, an American concern, had complained to the legation at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, that the government of Honduras has detained a gasoline launch, the property of the company—which flows the Nicaraguan flag—which left Bluefields for Livingston, after the revolution had started, for Puerto Cortez for fuel.

The Cherry.

This popular fruit takes its name from Cornus, Korasunt, a city of Asia Minor, from which region the cherry was first introduced into Europe by the Roman General Lucullus in the year B. C. 73. The cherry introduced by the Romans at the date given died out, and was reintroduced in the reign of Henry VIII, by Richard Haines, the frutifier of that monarch.

Gov. Hughes as he would look in the sombre robes of justice of the supreme court

Washington.—Governor Hughes of New York may have the succession to Associate Justice Rufus W. Peckham of the supreme court if he wants the position. President Taft is in measure inclined to Governor Hughes for the supreme bench. If he wants it, last summer during the celebration attending the discovery of Lake Champlain, President Taft announced that Governor Hughes would be the supreme bench. At that time there was no vacancy on the supreme bench and the compliment seemed gratuitous.

It is recalled now as weighed with from the federal district including New York, Governor Hughes would represent the same district. It is rumored that Governor Hughes at that call upon him at any time and would find him willing.

His removal from the New York political field might help Senator Root and Collector Loeb to reorganize the Republican state machine along lines desired by the Roosevelt followers. Next to Governor Hughes the political place as the possible successor to Justice Peckham. Mr. Peckham has powerful backing and it is said he would like the berth. There is doubt that Governor Hughes would accept.

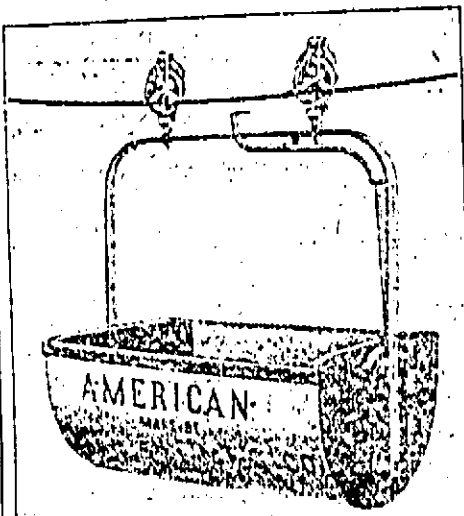

It is admitted here that all is guesswork on President Taft's position. He has given no indication who he prefers. The president is a strict constructionist of the constitution and it is said no one will find favor with him who leans to a liberal construction.

Ninety-Three Ships Built.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Ninety-three ships, both sail and steam craft, were completed and officially numbered during October, according to a statement issued by the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce and labor. Of this number, more than one-half were constructed for service on the Atlantic and gulf coasts. Twenty-one are sailing vessels of wooden construction and 60 are wooden steamers. Only six are steel steamers. The vessels are all small, the total tonnage being only a little more than 4,000 gross tons.

"Dry" Move for Capital.

Anderson, S. C., Nov. 4.—Believing that prohibition in the south, where it has been tried, has been home-felt to the people, Congressman Wyatt F. Allen of the Seventh district of South Carolina declared he would introduce a bill for prohibition in the District of Columbia at the next session of congress. Mr. Allen is a member of the house committee on the District of Columbia.

They are Winant Kurek, John Gukowski, Vladislav Nogowich and Alexander Krolkowski. Dolos, who shot Harry Tietelbaum during the bakery wagon drivers' strike, May 5, Tietelbaum was a nonunion driver.

Drinks, Blame; Wife Accused.

Albion, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Henry Onley, who was shot by his wife when she abandoned a trip to Salt Lake and found him intoxicated, is dead.

If You Like Persimmons

Its a pretty good plan to keep your eyes open for the trees where they grow thickest and carry a pole long enough to reach them.

In Janesville, Rock County and in adjacent territory the Janesville Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette are read in over 7500 homes where dwell 37,500 consumers. Within the past 24 months the circulation of the Daily Gazette has increased over 50 per cent.

THIS INCREASED CIRCULATION ALONE is more than double the TOTAL circulation of any Daily or Weekly publication in Janesville.

The increase is greater than the total circulation of The Gazette 15 years ago. The Gazette is the only paper in Janesville which makes known its circulation every day.

The results from advertising are large or small in proportion to the number of people reached. The advertising rates, which were effective Oct. 1st, 1907, are to be advanced Dec. 1st, 1909, in accordance with the following rate card:

SPLENDID EXHIBIT

OF RARE PAINTINGS

Was Opened Under the Auspices of the Art League at Library Hall
Last Evening.

Is there some indefinable mystery in these beautiful autumn days when the atmosphere seems charged with an almost imperceptible haze and is fairly pulsating with shafts of reflected light? It can be and is reflected with striking effect on canvas by the "Young Hunter," one of the splendid collection of oil paintings, water colors, mezzotints, and prints from the Chicago galleries of W. Scott Thurber (numbering 200 in all and valued at $28,187) which were placed on exhibition at Library hall last evening under the auspices of the Janesville Art League. The little Indian hunter, whose brilliant trappings stand out in bold relief against the subdued color tones of the onken glade, commands an outlook over a stream which connects two lakes and close at hand, this outlook and even the approaching wild-ducks appear to be streaked haphazard with luminous white paint. When one moves a few feet away the streaks become merged into a picture that throbs with life and fascinates the beholder. Elsewhere one may see the flamboyant color notes of the autumn season revealed by the naturalized Russian, Ossip L. Lunde, now one of the coterie of Chicago painters.

The same impressionistic treatment is observable to a greater extent, though in a more refined form, in the $3,000 Netherlands interior entitled
"The O'Clock Tea," by the Belgian, Frantz Chabert, who has been acclaimed as the follower and equal of the great modern Dutch masters—Manet, Maris, and Israels. But at the proper distance the seeming doubt which represents the mother's hand, becomes something strong and vital,
and the blue of her skirt, the scarlet red ribbon in the hair of the little girl at her feet, the faded red carpet, the light which plays on her white cap, on the head of the small boy, and on the edge of the made cushion chair in the background, are all merged into a mellow, harmonious, and surprisingly beautiful story of the departing day. That general theme—the solemnity of everyday life—makes itself manifest in J.
S. H. Kover's $1,800 painting called "The Alphabet Book"—a picture remarkable for its modeling, subtle gradation of color, and directness of appeal—in "The Little Dutch Flower Girl" by Marie Perrault, Jorissen's
"Caring for the Pets," Chabert's surrealistic "Contentment," and several other examples of the same school.

Such paintings as Henri Rohde's
"Market Place in Constantinople," Paschall's superb treatment of an Oriental theme entitled "The Gate of the Amoy" (valued at $1,800, and Lunde's lurid color plot in "Violets," every one to our countrymen, Frederic Remington's "Stack of Hay, Dry Camp" (valued at $1,200) gives attention to the lavishly ruthlessness of the desert, and Martin Cavanaugh confronts with the waste places in a mild mood in her Arizona adaptation of the scriptural legend of "The Evening Star." In a scene taken from the Soho of Old country near Stourbridge, France, Ashton Knight—
son of the famous American painter, Ridgway Knight—shows the pale moonlight transforming slow-moving water into a stream of glowing oil.
To get these wonderful effects it is said that he dons rubber boots and sets up his easel in mid-river. Contrast is afforded by C. Van Leeuwenpijn's treatment of still water in a "Canal in Flanders" and Van Boeck's study of "The Old Mill," the wild tangled in George Fowler's "The Sea Gulls" and the majesty of the sea, with its full plumes of spray, as translated by Warren Sheppard's wonderful study in wave-structures, "The Breakers"; and Lars Hunka's
"Evening on Fox Lake" which pursues the spectator of great distances beyond the silhouettes peacefully riding at anchor in the immediate foreground.

The splendor of satin and velvet, the elaborate detail of lace and flowers and sumptuous background, and the play of expression on the countenances attract in the ballroom scene by Andreotti, entitled "Words of Love." Paul Gruller's $1,000 painting of "The Skirmish Line" is another triumph in elaboration of detail, but it also is more than that. It is a tense, thrilling drama. The last of battle is in the eyes of the actors and the illusion of reality is in the snow they tread and the firearms they discharge.

Frantz de Bont, the Belgian painter whose "Shepherdess" was purchased by the Art League last year, is represented by another alluring sheep study, "Tending the Flock"; the Dutch animal painter, J. Scherrowitz, by two examples, "A Stormy Day
Along the Beach" and "The Tow-Path"; D. Bus by two attractive Italian studies; McGowan's, by a quiet little aquagrace of a "Street in Viri, France"; Van Oort by a series of intricate comedies in which frogs and herons are the principal factors; Walter Chumman by a tiny "Twilight" landscape valued at $1,200; and there are other important canvases too numerous to mention.

Ten notable mezzotints by S. Arlen Edwards, and a whole retinue of prints, etchings, colored facsimiles, and carbon photographs of many of the world's greatest paintings combine to make the exhibition one of the most attractive and instructive that was ever brought here.

same will be derived by selling a strip of public land for $500.

The city council has been petitioned to extend Railroad street in the Third ward through the Stewart council will take favorable action on the petition.

ARRESTS YOUNG GIRL

CHARGING A THEFT

Deputy Sheriff of Kansas City Takes Appleton Girl Back with Him to Face Jury.

Appleton, Wis., Nov. 4.—Deputy Sheriff C. Q. Lukens of Kansas City, Kans., arrived in Appleton Tuesday afternoon armed with extradition papers signed by Governor Stubbs of Kansas, and a warrant for the arrest of Miss Maude James of Combined Locks, who is charged by Charles Chapman of Kansas City with stealing five $20 goldpieces, a quantity of silverware, some clothing, a razor and other articles, all of which are said to be valued at about $200. The charge against Miss James is grand larceny. Miss James up to a few months ago was employed as domestic in the Chapman household. She denies the charge and will enter a plea of not guilty. Deputy Lukens and his charge departed on the afternoon train for Kansas City.

State Chairman E. A. Edwards returned yesterday from New Orleans after making the trip from St. Louis to the golf last week with the presidential fleet. Mr. Edwards, talking on the projected deep waterway from the lakes to the gulf, declares that he favors the project providing the waterways commission can give an ample proof in advance that the result will be commensurate with the vast expenditure required to carry out the enterprise.

The one doubt in his mind as to the advisability of the scheme at this time is the fact that the Mississippi river traffic from Memphis to New Orleans, where the water is never at so low a level as to impede traffic, is comparatively light, and he, with many of the other members of the congressional delegation on the presidential jaunt, fears that the traffic even after the improvements are made would not be sufficient to warrant the expenditure of perhaps $500,000,000 of the nation's money. Mr. Edwards is not opposed to the project, however, but simply wants to "be shown."

The Optimist's Corner

Daily Helps to Health and Happiness
By GEORGE F. BUTLER, A. M., M. D.

During the first six or seven years of a child's life special attention should be given to its physical training rather than to the intellect. After this period, if the physical constitution is good, the education of both should receive attention. Up to six or seven years of age children should be left like little lambs, to roam around the house, and in the yard, in the buoyancy of their spirits, skipping and jumping, free from care and trouble. Parents should not educate from books.
Children generally will be inquisitive to learn things of nature. They will ask questions with regard to things they see and hear, and parents should improve the opportunity to instruct and patiently answer those little inquiries. They can in this manner get the advantage of the enemy, and fortify the minds of their children by sowing good seeds in their hearts, leaving no room for the bad to take root. The mother's loving instruction at a tender age is what is needed by children in formation of character.

If you have several little children in your home, give each one a place in which to keep its own toys. Make it a rule that each child should help the other, and help each other to pick up the toys, books, or games, and put the house in order before it is time for the evening meal.

the car fare to boot."—Cleveland Plain

Deafness Cannot be Cured.
by local applications; as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube.
When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be brought out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ten are caused by catarrhs, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous sur-

CHAPTER XX.

WHEN Jimmy Smith had told Emma and Joe that Captain Williams lived in a little south sea island moved into his flat and that it was dirty the description had done justice to the place in a general way. It was in a hotel not far from that in which the Brookes had so recently taken up their residence, and the living room was a curious combination of natural history museum and ship's cabin.

A wooden captain in the center did duty for a round table, and on it, in addition to an electric reading lamp, an untidy litter of papers and magazines, some writing paper, envelopes, pens and ink, were a huge tin box of tobacco and a rack containing pipes of wood and meerschaum of all sizes, shapes and colors. Remarkable among the few chairs of rattan or rush was one, a large rocking chair, partially constructed of two small anchors, the slats forming the rockers. In a corner over a comfortable lounge was a canopy made of a piece of sail canvas supported by south sea island spears and decorated with leather shields, varnished, boomerangs and other native weapons, together with necklaces and various ornaments of sharks' teeth. Covering the walls were stuffed fishes of weird shape. Over the entrance door was a ship's wheel and on the mantel a model of an old time sailing schooner with all sails set. Among other objects on the mantel also was a faded daguerreotype showing Captain Williams as a young man, in uniform. On each side of the captain was a dirty cuspidor. The carpet also was dirty and spotted, and dust had settled thickly everywhere. In this queer abode Williams lived alone, save for Sato, a Japanese valet, who had served him for many years.

The massive form of the captain himself, minus his coat, might have been described in the light of the lamp through the cloud of tobacco smoke that enveloped him as he sat reading a magazine some time after his departure from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks. He was rather annoyed when the telephone bell rang and had he not been expecting Smith would not have troubled to answer it. As it was, he swore a little and rose lazily to respond.

"Hello! Yes, this is Captain Williams," he said in his usual stentorian voice. "What, Brooks? I won't talk with you over the phone—no—what? Mrs. Brooks? What, here? Well, well! Yes, I'm at home—yes. Right away, you say? Yes, I'll wait."

Williams could hardly believe what he had heard. He turned it over in his mind for fully three minutes figuring out just what it could mean.

"Going to send his wife here? What a skunk he is!" he grunted.

He ambled to the telephone again and instructed the hotel clerk that if any visitors called to see him they were to be shown right up. From there he went to the door of an adjoining room and roared for his valet.

"Any beer on ice?" he demanded when the Japanese, who evidently had been asleep, presented himself.

"Yes, saar."

"Got lines and rum—the kind I brought up from the West Indies?"

"Yes, saar."

"Plenty ice?"

"Yes, saar."

"That's all."

"How do you know?"

"Telephoned."

If Williams expected to see any sign in his visitor of the utter amazement, the profound consternation, the flurried confusion of this information, he was doomed to disappointment. Smith remained as unreadable as the sphinx. But it was sixty seconds before he spoke.

"I suppose that's a hint for me to be on my way?" he interrogated.

"That's about the meaning I meant to convey," admitted the captain, without circumlocution.

Jimmy rose slowly, took his hat and went toward the door. Before he reached it he turned.

"Williams," he said, "you know I've known Emma—Mrs. Brooks—ever since she was in short clothes and used to come down to the office to go home with her daddy."

"So I've heard."

"She's always been able to look into my face with them big blue eyes and smile. Some time—some day—if I get back—I'm going to make it my business to see her."

"All right."

"And if she shouldn't happen to look up into my face and smile I'm going to find you, Williams, and I'm coming home."

The captain puffed his pipe placidly. "What style heels might you be wearing now, Smith?" he inquired, with great deliberation.

"Well," answered the always deliberate Jimmy, "if you should consult the particular shoemaker who furnishes them he'd describe that heel as of 45 caliber."

"Good night, Smith," said the captain dryly.

Smith did not reply. Williams gazed in the direction of the door after his superintendent had closed it. There was an unpleasant smile on his face. It slowly died away, and his pug-nosed underjaw protruded ominously. Reaching round to his hip pocket, he brought out a gun.

The caller, however, was only Smith. "Come in, but make your business short," was Williams' blunt greeting. "I'm expecting an important visitor."

"All right, captain," responded Smith tranquilly, entering and helping himself to a chair.

"Have a pipe?" invited the host, pushing the tobacco tin toward him.

"Too hot," was the laconic declination. "Well, how did you leave the Brooks family?"

"She knows."

"You tell her?"

"No, Joe did."

"Didn't think he had the nerve."

"He hasn't."

"How's that?"

"It was because he lost it that he told her. Busted right out the moment the door was closed on you."

"Did they have a row?"

"Don't know. She took it like a major and asked me to leave 'em alone."

"That's natural."

"Have you got the exact figures?"

"What figures?"

"Of how much he took."

"I guess so—the penny," said Williams, reaching for a memorandum book and consulting it. "It was just $12.50 three days ago."

"Any more now?"

"Not that I know of. Guess that covers it."

Smith shook his head moodily.

"That's too bad—too bad," he murmured.

"That's right, it is too bad," agreed the captain.

Smith thought for a minute, looked straight at the captain, who was regarding him curiously and said firmly and more quickly than his employer had ever heard him speak before:

"Williams, I don't think I'll take three minutes for you and me to come to an understanding about Brooks."

"What about him?"

"I want to square this thing for him."

"Where do you come in, Smith?"

"In plain words, Williams, that's my business. But I want to square it."

"How do you think you can square it, Smith?"

As Jimmy prepared to answer the question he fell back into his old familiar drawl.

"Well, Williams," he said, "you ain't got any callous on your fingers from handling out coin to the folks who've worked for you, but I've always been treated about right."

"You were always worth treating right, Smith."

"Thanks."

"Always found you a fair man—doing things you said you'd do in a fair way."

"I ain't never been much of a spendthrift, Williams. I've saved and been a little lucky in investing the little I've had. I can raise about $14,000 by noon tomorrow, and I'll give you my note for the rest, with security—I mean collateral."

"So it ain't none of my business why you do this?"

"Exactly."

"Smith, I don't think you can square this little matter for Brooks."

"Don't think my note's good, eh?"

"Didn't that. You couldn't square this, Smith, if you had a million right in your clothes this minute."

"Why not?"

"To tell the truth, I'm going to open negotiations with another party."

"That so?"

"Mrs. Brooks."

"How?"

"She's coming up here to see me soon. Maybe she and me can come to some mutually pleasant arrangement that will keep Brooks out of jail."

"When is she coming?"

The captain puffed at his pipe and scrutinized Smith's face closely as he replied:

"Expect her any moment."

THEATRE

"Why did she love him? Curious fool, he still is human love the growth of human will?"

How many years since these lines have flashed across your memory? Or have they always been a part of it, like your first place at school? Where are they found? Why, they are the forward of "St. Elmo," that most famous of novels of a few generations ago, which today holds its Grace Hayward, herself a player of many notable parts and whose version of "Grandfather" has won the favor of sharp critics.

There has been formed, under the direction of a manager skilled in stage organization, a special company which is to make a long tour in Miss Hayward's "St. Elmo." A play of fire and thrill, of great passion and great tenderness, of hate and love and strife and in the end a beautiful peace—this is the "St. Elmo" which is to be given to lovers of the theatre. It will be worth waiting for, and going to see at the Myers theatre, next Saturday, matinee and evening. Adv.

Despair and Dependency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the dependency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disordered and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely up the nerve if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

It is said that anything left lying around loose would soon be picked up and thrown into the gutter. The railroad car, in that locality, is liable to change owners without much ceremony.

A man, now a resident in this city, barely escaped assassination in the harbor of Montevideo, by a native, during a brief visit to that port while on his way to California.

"Do you anticipate a lively session of Congress this coming winter?"

He took so long in answering the question that I had given it up when he replied:

"I don't know anything about Congress and don't want to, but I'm anticipating that my son Bill, who was hustling around when I left, has just landed on me all this afternoon, and that when I get home I shall have to give him such a kicking that I shall be able to get the balance of my life to equal his blows!" He found it almost impossible to persuade the natives, who are so lazy that they seldom go fishing, to sell him any. An offer of gold tempted them no more than silver; they had caught their fish to eat them, and eat them they did.

One Letter Makes a Difference
A single misprinted letter may produce astonishing results, and even misreading of a capital letter as small one may be disastrous. When John Payne Collier died the London press correctly gave a paragraph stating that he had been buried in St. churchyard, near Maldenhead, a London suburb.

number of friends being present at funeral. But a provincial paper which presumably knew nothing of the notorious Shakespearean error gave the same paragraph concerning "John Payne, a collier," and, to complete the thing, headed it "The B Colliery Disaster."—London Chronicle
